NATIONAL PRIMA

PRIMA—The name implies the best, without equal. And the Public Risk Management Association and its chapters are just that.

PRIMA was founded in 1978, a time when fluctuations in the insurance market made public agencies acutely aware of the need for good risk management. PRIMA is an independent organization composed of local governments, risk management pools, and other organizations that actively manage the risks of providing public services.

PRIMA's membership includes close to 3,000 general and special-purpose governments. PRIMA has 27 chapters in the United States and Canada. In addition, the association has affiliations with organizations in Australia, Europe, and other nations.

PRIMA is your Partner for Success!

When you join National PRIMA you'll find:

- Exceptional educational programs, including PRIMA Institute, online educational webinars, podcasts, and PRIMA's Annual Conference.
- Publications, such as newsletters, reports, and Public Risk—PRIMA's award-winning magazine.
- The Country's most comprehensive clearinghouse of risk management information for public entities, including legislative and regulatory developments.
- Access to PRIMATalk, an service and networking tool use to ask a question of over 3,000 industry specialists and receive feedback on issues.

PRIMA and Its Chapters: A Perfect Partnership

PRIMA's chapters support the goals of the association at the regional and local level. Through the PRIMA network, you'll discover you are not alone in the risk management problems you face. Much can be learned, and gained, from sharing experiences with other public risk management practitioners.

When you join Maryland PRIMA you'll find:

- A forum to meet risk management professionals in your area.
- A local network to share and solve problems.
- Discounted rates for employees from your entity to attend three Chapter Meetings a year.
- Updates on state law, court rulings, and other area specific topics
- Committee and leadership opportunities.
